Finding Aid for Series 8: Research Methods; Qualitative Research in Nursing

About the Archives of Caring in Nursing:
Please visit http://nursing.fau.edu/archives for information on scope, collections, and policies. Send inquiries to NurArchives@fau.edu.

General information about the Leininger Collection:
Extent: Entire Leininger collection is approximately 85 linear ft.; Series 8 is 4 document boxes.

Provenance: Dr. Madeleine M. Leininger, PhD, RN, CTN, LHD, DS, PhDNSc, FAAN

Collection Access: The collection is unrestricted. On-site access is available by appointment. Copying/scanning is subject to copyright restrictions. Some documents have been scanned and are linked from the Finding Aids. “Click here...” follows the entries for these documents.

Citation: The Madeleine M. Leininger Collection on Human Caring and Transcultural Nursing, Archives of Caring in Nursing, Christine E. Lynn College of Nursing, Florida Atlantic University.

Finding Aid for Series 8: Research Methods; Qualitative Research in Nursing

Series 8: Research Methods.
This Series is divided into Subseries sections as outlined by M. Leininger on an undated list of selected references for her course, NUR 806, at Wayne State University College of Nursing. The Leininger list is archived in Folder 8-21. Several categories were added from folders labeled by M. Leininger with categories not on the list in Folder 8-21.

Subseries 1: Qualitative Research Methods (General)
Subseries 2: Ethnography, Ethnohistory and Ethnonursing
Subseries 3: Grounded Theory
Subseries 4: Symbolic Interaction: Philosophy and Uses
Subseries 5: Phenomenological Methods [includes Hermeneutics]
Subseries 6: Philosophical Inquiry; Existential Philosophy and Method
Subseries 7: Historical Methods (Ethnohistory and Classic) [including Triangulation]
Subseries 8: Critical Social Theory and Feminist Theory Methods
Subseries 9: Metaphor Inquiry
Subseries 10: Auto- and Biographic & Life History Method; Narrative
Subseries 11: Audiovisual Method
Subseries 12: Constructivism
Subseries 13: Deconstruction
Subseries 14: Focus Groups
Subseries 15: Concept Analysis
Subseries 16: Criteria and Evaluation Methods of Qualitative Research
Subseries 17: Ethical Aspects of Qualitative Methods
Subseries 18: Nursing Theory Development

Box 73

Subseries 1: Qualitative Research Methods (General)
See also ARC-008 Series 4, Folder 4-2 University of Cincinnati College of Nursing and Health. [1984?]. Qualitative research methods in health care. Course description with topical outline and bibliography. [“started this course in 1984 University of Cincinnati”]

Folder 8-1 Nursing Science Quarterly, 2(1), 1989. Table of contents: Qualitative Research. [including copies of 2 papers with holographic notes]
Folder 8-2 MNRS Qualitative Research Section Newsletter, 2(1), November 1988. Midwest Nursing Research Society, Qualitative Research Section Member Directory, October 1988.
Folder 8-6 Goodwin, L.D., & Goodwin, W.L. (1984). Qualitative vs. quantitative research or qualitative and quantitative research.” Nursing Research, 33(6), 378-380. [holographic notes]
Folder 8-14 Campus Forum no. 2, April 2, 1993. Qualitative paradigmatic research methods: “Graduate students’ joys, frustrations, and hope with qualitative research.” [2 pp. typescript for oral presentation, no author: Wayne State University?]

Subseries 1: General - The following items, photocopies of published items by authors other than M. Leininger, were sent to the Archives of Caring in Nursing as part of the M. Leininger papers. These items contained no holographic notes or other annotations, and were not retained because further copying or other distribution may violate US Copyright law “Fair Use” principles.
Blenner, J.L. (no date). Writing the qualitative grant proposal while meeting quantitative criteria: Walking on eggshells. Florida Nursing Review, 4(3), 5-9. [publication date is 1990 or later based on references cited]

Subseries 2: Ethnography, Ethnohistory and Ethnonursing

See also ARC-008 Series 4, Folder 4-2 University of Cincinnati College of Nursing and Health. [1984?]. Qualitative research methods in health care. Course description with topical outline and bibliography. [“started this course in 1984 University of Cincinnati”]

Folder 8-16 Leininger, M. (various dates).
8-16.1. Group of holographic notes, handouts, 1 overhead transparency.
8-16.5. Photocopies of 15 published papers on ethnoscience method – see folder for reference list. Papers not archived due to copyright issues.

Folder 8-17 Group of published papers on ethnography and ethnographic method; various authors.
8-17.1. List of references, “Ethnography”
8-17.3. Ragucci, A.T. (1972). The ethnographic approach and nursing research. Reproduced with permission from Nursing Research, 21(6), 485-490. [this paper is archived with holographic markings by M.L.]
8-17.4. “Evaluating ethnography: Academic versus applied,” identified as “MA Muecke mss/ethnog.txt draft of 20 Nov.” 14 pp. computer print or photocopy of draft manuscript with holographic markings and notes by M.L. [this material may not be photocopied, scanned or otherwise reproduced]
8-17.5. Photocopies of 9 published papers on ethnography – see folder for reference list. Papers not archived due to copyright issues.

Folder 8-18 Group of handouts and bibliographies on ethnonursing research methodology
8-18.1. Handouts and bibliographies

Folder 8-19 Group of holographic notes on various cultures, marked “case examples”; copy of research proposal to US Public Health Service, 1978, “Nursing care and beliefs of expectant Navajo women” (Carol Milligan, Principal Investigator)

Folder 8-20 Leininger, M. (circa 1984). Importance and uses of ethnomethods: Ethnography and ethnonursing research. [see also published version: Recent Adv. Nurs. 17, 12-36] [references in folder were paper-clipped to the document]

Folder 8-21 Qualitative nursing research bibliographies: Qualitative research methods.
Folder 8-22 Ethnonursing informed consent sample; early ethnonursing enablers, 1973-1995

End Box 73

Box 74
Folder 8-23 Research/theory and methods/analysis: Group of papers with holographic notes.

Folder 8-25  Qualitative data analysis: Computer-assisted qualitative data management and
Folder 8-29  Ethnography:
  8-29.1 Wayne State University College of Nursing Center for Health Research Colloquium, April 19, 1989. Melanie Dreher, PhD, RN, FAAN, University of Massachusetts School of Nursing. [program flier with 2 pages of M.L. holographic notes]
  8-29.2 Leininger, M. (no date). Definitions of ethnomethods, ethnomethodology: Qualitative inquiry paradigm: Leininger's ethnonursing and ethnographic field journal research data (Form 100) [handouts]
  8-29.3 Data analysis for ethnography and ethnonursing. Nursing 806 student, Professor M. [includes M.L. holographic notes]
  8-29.4 Brief student presentation/paper: Ethnography, Nursing 806, June 1989. [includes M.L. holographic notes]
  8-29.5 Brief student presentation/paper: Ethnomethodology: A historical perspective, Nursing 806, June 1989. [includes M.L. holographic notes]
  8-29.6 Student presentation/paper: An exploration of ethnography for use in nursing systems research, Nursing 806 Summer 1990. [includes M.L. holographic notes]
Folder 8-29.7 Student presentation: Ethnography and ethnonursing. [probably Nursing 806, 1989 or 1990. [includes M.L. holographic notes]
Subseries 2: Ethnography, Ethnohistory and Ethnonursing - The following items, photocopies of published items by authors other than M. Leininger, were sent to the Archives of Caring in Nursing as part of the M. Leininger papers. These items contained no holographic notes or other annotations, and were not retained because further copying or other distribution may violate US Copyright law “Fair Use” principles.

Subseries 3: Grounded Theory
Folder 8-30  Group of materials for M. Leininger seminar, Wayne State University College of Nursing, Nursing 806, dates in 1980’s and 1990’s
Folder 8-31  Hutchinson, S.A. (no date). Education and grounded theory. [pp. 50-68, a chapter in an unidentified book] [includes holographic notes]
Subseries 3: Grounded Theory - The following items, photocopies of published items by authors other than M. Leininger, were sent to the Archives of Caring in Nursing as part of the M. Leininger papers. These items contained no holographic notes or other annotations, and were not retained because further copying or other distribution may violate US Copyright law “Fair Use” principles.

Atwood, J.R. (no date). A grounded theory approach to the study of perimortality care. (Unit VIII: Methodology, pp. 339-350 of an unidentified monograph.)

Subseries 4: Symbolic Interaction: Philosophy and Uses

Folder 8-34 Symbolic interaction: Materials for NUR806 seminar [includes bibliographies, handouts, holographic notes, and student papers with holographic notes]

Subseries 4: Symbolic Interaction: Philosophy and Uses - The following items, photocopies of published items by authors other than M. Leininger, were sent to the Archives of Caring in Nursing as part of the M. Leininger papers. These items contained no holographic notes or other annotations, and were not retained because further copying or other distribution may violate US Copyright law “Fair Use” principles.

Maurin, J. [no date]. A symbolic interaction perspective of the family. [Chapter 8 of unidentified book, perhaps titled Family health: A theoretical perspective.]

Subseries 5: Phenomenological Methods [includes Hermeneutics]

Folder 8-35 M. Phenomenology and hermeneutics materials for Leininger course NUR 806, Qualitative Research Methodology [includes student papers with holographic notes by M.L.]

Folder 8-36 Munhall, P.L. (1992). Holding the Mississippi River in place and other implications for qualitative research. Nursing Outlook, 40(6), 257-262. [includes holographic notes]

Folder 8-38 Tripp-Reimer, T., & Cohen, M.Z. (no date). Using phenomenology in health promotion research. [pages 121-127 of unidentified publication] [includes holographic notes]

Subseries 5: Phenomenological Methods [includes Hermeneutics] - The following items, photocopies of published items by authors other than M. Leininger, were sent to the Archives of Caring in Nursing as part of the M. Leininger papers. These items contained no holographic notes or other annotations, and were not retained because further copying or other distribution may violate US Copyright law “Fair Use” principles.

Kvale, S. (no date). The qualitative research interview: A phenomenological and a hermeneutical mode of understanding. [pp. 171-196 of unidentified publication][no clues at all: probably a chapter but no running head other than this title and author.]

Riemen, D.J. (no date). The essential structure of a caring interaction: Doing phenomenology. [Chapter 5, pp. 85-108 of unidentified publication]

---

Subseries 6: Philosophical Inquiry: Existential Philosophy and Method

Folder 8-39 Philosophical inquiry methods: Existential philosophy. Materials for NUR806 seminar [includes bibliographies, student presentation outline with holographic notes; photocopy of chapter by D. Gaut (date/publication unknown) “A philosophic orientation to caring research” – apparently discussed in student’s presentation]

Subseries 6: Philosophical Inquiry: Existential Philosophy and Method · The following items, photocopies of published items by authors other than M. Leininger, were sent to the Archives of Caring in Nursing as part of the M. Leininger papers. These items contained no holographic notes or other annotations, and were not retained because further copying or other distribution may violate US Copyright law “Fair Use” principles.

---

Subseries 7: Historical Methods (Ethnohistory and Classic) [including Triangulation]

Folder 8-40 Historical method: Materials for Qualitative research methods in nursing, NUR806, Wayne State University, Summer 1989. Includes Historical research method, by guest lecturer Linda Strodtman, NUR805 Advanced Research Methods, presentation by Linda Strodtman 10/18/1985: and group of materials on historical research method, including holographic notes and a student paper/presentation with holographic notes.

Subseries 7: Historical Methods (Ethnohistory and Classic) [including Triangulation] · The following items, photocopies of published items by authors other than M. Leininger, were sent to the
Subseries 8: Critical Social Theory and Feminist Theory Methods

Folder 8-41 Critical Theory: Materials for M. Leininger seminar, NUR806, Qualitative Research Methods in Nursing, 1990's. [includes bibliographies and student papers with holographic critique notes]

Folder 8-43 Feminist Theory: Materials for M. Leininger seminar, NUR806, Qualitative Research Methods in Nursing, 1990's. [includes bibliographies, outlines, and student papers with holographic critique notes]

Subseries 8: Critical Social Theory and Feminist Theory Methods · The following items, photocopies of published items by authors other than M. Leininger, were sent to the Archives of Caring in Nursing as part of the M. Leininger papers. These items contained no holographic notes or other annotations, and were not retained because further copying or other distribution may violate US Copyright law “Fair Use” principles.

Subseries 9: Metaphor Inquiry

Folder 8-45 Metaphor inquiry: Materials for M. Leininger seminar, NUR806, Qualitative Research Methods in Nursing, 1990’s. [includes bibliographies, term paper guidelines, and student papers with holographic critique notes]
Subseries 9: Metaphor Inquiry - The following items, photocopies of published items by authors other than M. Leininger, were sent to the Archives of Caring in Nursing as part of the M. Leininger papers. These items contained no holographic notes or other annotations, and were not retained because further copying or other distribution may violate US Copyright law “Fair Use” principles.

Subseries 10: Auto- and Biographic & Life History Method: Narrative

Folder 8-46 Life History seminar materials and class presentations, including bibliographies, 1992.

Folder 8-47 Leininger, M. (no date). Chapter XI. Life health-care history: Purposes, methods and techniques. [2 versions of a typescript, marked “not final”]

Folder 8-48 Narrative, storytelling methods: Bibliographies, class materials

Folder 8-49 “Particip.-Observation: MML’s research findings & materials for paper.” [3 published articles by other authors: carbon copies of M. Leininger notes on 2 articles: 2 pages of holographic notes: bibliography for “Anthropology 505: Field Methods, Spring Quarter 1961”]

Subseries 10: Auto- and Biographic & Life History Method: Narrative - The following items, photocopies of published items by authors other than M. Leininger, were sent to the Archives of Caring in Nursing as part of the M. Leininger papers. These items contained no holographic notes or other annotations, and were not retained because further copying or other distribution may violate US Copyright law “Fair Use” principles.

End Box 75

Box 76

Subseries 11: Audiovisual Method

Folder 8-50 Audiovisual methods, including drawing: Materials for M. Leininger seminar, NUR806, Qualitative Research Methods in Nursing, 1990's. [includes bibliographies, and student papers with holographic critique notes]

Subseries 11: Audiovisual Method - The following items, photocopies of published items by authors other than M. Leininger, were sent to the Archives of Caring in Nursing as part of the M. Leininger papers. These items contained no holographic notes or other annotations, and were not retained because further copying or other distribution may violate US Copyright law “Fair Use” principles.

Subseries 12: Constructivism

Folder 8-51 Constructivism: Materials for M. Leininger seminar, NUR806, Qualitative Research Methods in Nursing, 1990's. [includes handouts, diagrams, student papers with holographic notes]

Subseries 12: Constructivism - The following items, photocopies of published items by authors other than M. Leininger, were sent to the Archives of Caring in Nursing as part of the M. Leininger papers. These items contained no holographic notes or other annotations, and were not retained because further copying or other distribution may violate US Copyright law “Fair Use” principles.

Subseries 13: Deconstruction

Folder 8-52: Deconstruction articles: Collection of papers, outline and bibliography of deconstruction: Leininger holographic notes dated April 4, 1991. [includes Leininger critique of a student paper]

Subseries 13: Deconstruction - The following item, a photocopy of a published item by an author other than M. Leininger, was sent to the Archives of Caring in Nursing as part of the M. Leininger papers. This item contained no holographic notes or other annotations, and was not retained because further copying or other distribution may violate US Copyright law “Fair Use” principles.

Subseries 14. Focus Groups

Folder 8-53: Focus groups: Materials for NUR806 seminar [includes bibliography, handouts, student papers with holographic notes]

Subseries 14: Focus Groups - The following items, photocopies of published items by authors other than M. Leininger, were sent to the Archives of Caring in Nursing as part of the M. Leininger papers. These items contained no holographic notes or other annotations, and were not retained because further copying or other distribution may violate US Copyright law “Fair Use” principles.

Reiskin, H. (1992). Focus groups: A useful technique for research and practice in nursing. [pp. 197-201 from unidentified publication copyright by W.B. Saunders Co.; ISBN or ISSN: 0897-1897/92/0504-0009$5.00]

Subseries 15: Concept Analysis

The following items, photocopies of published items by authors other than M. Leininger, were sent to the Archives of Caring in Nursing as part of the M. Leininger papers. These items contained no holographic notes or other annotations, and were not retained because further copying or other distribution may violate US Copyright law “Fair Use” principles.

14
Subseries 16: Criteria and Evaluation Methods of Qualitative Research
Folder 8-54  Leininger’s criteria to evaluate qualitative methods. [overhead transparency, no date, no author]

Subseries 16: Criteria and Evaluation Methods of Qualitative Research - The following items, photocopies of published items by authors other than M. Leininger, were sent to the Archives of Caring in Nursing as part of the M. Leininger papers. These items contained no holographic notes or other annotations, and were not retained because further copying or other distribution may violate US Copyright law “Fair Use” principles.

Subseries 17: Ethical Aspects of Qualitative Methods

Subseries 17: Ethical Aspects of Qualitative Methods - The following items, photocopies of published items by authors other than M. Leininger, were sent to the Archives of Caring in Nursing as part of the M. Leininger papers. These items contained no holographic notes or other annotations, and were not retained because further copying or other distribution may violate US Copyright law “Fair Use” principles.

Cowles, K. V. (1988). Issues in qualitative research on sensitive topics. Western Journal of Nursing Research, 10(2), 163-179. [entire issue is devoted to qualitative research]

Munhall, P.L. (1988). Ethical considerations in qualitative research. Western Journal of Nursing Research, 10(2), 150-162. [Entire issue is devoted to qualitative research]

Subseries 18: Nursing Theory Development

Folder 8-56 “Some Early Theory Articles and Authors”

8-56.5 Hardy, M. (date unknown). Metaparadigms and theory development. (pp. 427-435 of unidentified publication; p. 427 states, “This chapter is based on a paper presented at the 1979 Rozella M. Schlotfeldt Lectureship, Case Western Reserve University, April 21, 1979.”).

8-56.7 Strategies for theory development. Chapter 6 of unidentified publication. [Includes holographic notes]

8-56.8 Theory synthesis. Chapter 10 of unidentified publication.

clarification in nursing,”, Chapter 2, “Concept clarification: An overview.” [includes holographic notes]

8-56.17 The following items, photocopies of published items by authors other than M. Leininger, were sent to the Archives of Caring in Nursing as part of the M. Leininger papers, in folder labeled, “Some Early Theory Articles and Authors.” These items contained no holographic notes or other annotations, and were not retained because further copying or other distribution may violate US Copyright law “Fair Use” principles.

End Box 76

End Finding Aid ARC-008 Series 8; Last update: 6/7/2013